VINIFICATION

As customary for all red grapes, the process involves inoculation with selected enzymes and yeasts, along with frequent pump-overs alternated with délestage, to achieve optimal and immediate extraction of coloring substances.

AGEING

Bottled in late spring, this wine retains over time the complexity and freshness characteristic of the vintage, making it truly distinctive. It is undoubtedly a wine of remarkable balance and consistent quality.

Bright ruby red colour.

TASTING NOTES

Aromas of lightly macerated red fruits well integrated with its alcohol content.

HARVEST

Manual

On the palate it is velvety; tannins are present yet harmoniously balanced within a sinuous body that highlights the varietal's distinctive features. Never eccentric, never excessive. This is Merlot, produced only in the best vintages.
